Schools speed toward another issue

After two months of discussing possibilities, Canyon school district officials have been told to speed up preparations so another school bond issue can be held as soon as possible, according to Board President Tom Keeling.

Keeling said officials have been told to complete new elementary school plans and site locations as fast as they can so another bond issue can be held.

He made his comments in response to a question concerning proposed guidelines for de-annexation of school property to Amarillo School District.

Admin. Assistant W. V. McAlpin is working on possible sites for a new elementary school and administrators are working with B.R. Cantrell of Amarillo on architectural drawings of the proposed structure. Board members at their last meeting decided they would prefer a school building designed to be flexible, perhaps with the ability to be used for open classroom teaching and the more traditional closed-classroom approach.

When a new bond issue election is called, it is a virtual certainty that the issue will call for construction of a new elementary school in the district.

Whether other construction projects will be proposed on the ballot remains to be seen. In two recent bond issue elections, one in December and another in February, voters turned down, first, a $6 million proposal for construction of an elementary school, a high school and remodelling of Canyon High, and next, a $5.5 million proposal for construction of an elementary school, a new junior high school, and remodelling of CHS.

Gene Howe area residents called on the board at their last meeting to call a bond issue immediately for construction of an elementary school, either a junior high or high school, and remodelling of CHS, all at a cost of not more than $4 million.

The Gene Howe group also called for a moratorium on the de-annexation of properties from the CISD to the AISD until the bond issue could be settled, so that the Gene Howe area could exercise an option on creation of a new school district.

Keeling said new guidelines worked out by leaders of both school boards will not affect the Gene Howe area's moratorium request because a bond issue will be called before any more land is de-annexed.

The guidelines are to be discussed by the Canyon board at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

They are also to be discussed by the Amarillo board in the near future. After they have been presented both boards, the boards are to meet together to discuss the guidelines.

Keeling said he sees nothing wrong with the guidelines, which are designed to serve as procedures for future de-annexation attempts.

The guidelines begin with a statement of purpose:

"Without attempting to contract in any legally binding sense but recognizing that there will be instances in which it will be desirable to detach areas from (CISD) and attach them to (AISD) and that it is to the shared advantage of both districts if a solution be sought by agreement when the question arises, the Boards of Trustees of the two districts recommend the use of these guidelines."

The guidelines say Canyon will consider de-annexation applications on a case by case basis if

(a) the area sought to be detached lies north of Hillside or a westerly extension of Hillside and contains at least 320 acres or close thereto and is contiguous to the Amarillo district,

(b) the petition complies with the requirements of the statute as it may then exist, and

(c) in those instances that Canyon deems it necessary to have some compensation for the tax revenue lost as the result of the detachment Canyon and the developer reach agreement upon a sum which the developer will pay and Canyon will accept as compensation for the tax revenues lost by reason of the detachment.

The guidelines call for the Canyon trustees to sign applications for de-annexations of property when these prerequisites have been met.

The guidelines further protect Amarillo:

"Amarillo will consider, likewise on a case by case basis, the annexation of tracts approved by Canyon for de-annexation if assurance can be given that the or-

FmHA now has Umbarger water funds

The Farmers Home Administration now has funds for construction of a water system in Umbarger, a state official said Tuesday.

Bill Lawson, of the Temple office of the FmHA, said grant funds are earmarked for the Umbarger project and all that is needed is for the grant application to be sent to the state office.

He said Tuesday he has dispatched an FmHA official from Clarendon to the Amarillo FmHA office to get the grant application on its way to Temple.

Lawson's comments came two weeks after an Amarillo FmHA official admitted he had forgotten to forward the Umbarger grant request to the state office. The application has allegedly been ready for submission since last November.

Lawson said he has told the Clarendon official to pick up the application from the Amarillo official, Thomas Cheshire, and get it to Temple.

"What I want to do is get this out of there (the Amarillo office) some way," he said.

Cheshire had told The News it would take about two weeks from March 26 to complete the processing of the application. He had earlier said the application was turned in to the Temple office and only awaited federal funding.

Lawson said he will know today or Friday whether the application is, in fact, complete and ready for full review. The Clarendon FmHA official was to be in Amarillo Tuesday and Wednesday to pick up the application.

A state official had said in late March the hold-up on Umbarger's application was because Umbarger had not yet submitted the final application.

Engineer Bill McMorries and Panhandle Regional Planning Commission officials said the application had been given Cheshire in November.

Lawson defended Cheshire.

"He's handling entirely four programs through there for the Farmers Home Administration," he said, "and where we had four or five people in that office, he's down to two there and he's had an emergency situation in the farmer program for two or three years."

Nevertheless, Lawson admitted he should already have had the application and it should already have gone through state channels.

Umbarger residents have already put up $6000 for the water system in their community. They have also formed a non-profit corporation to administer the system.

They have been waiting for approval of applications for funding of the water program since 1970.

Could cause reassessment of pass-through

Lo-Vaca gas decision could impact here

The Railroad Commission order limiting the cost of gas pass through by Lo-Vaca Gathering Company may be "a strike for us" in considering a similar pass-through reduction in the pioneer system, city manager Glen Metcalf said Thursday.

But Hereford city manager Dudley Baine, who has been pushing for a pass-through limit, discounted the ruling and said that Hereford will see a legislative action in a special session.

"The ruling there is such a misleading thing, it's hard to tell just what they mean," Baine said.

Baine said the Hereford city commission is expected to pass a resolution next Monday calling for legislative action to limit pass-through percentages.

"That looks like the best way now," he said. "We'll ride along and see how that goes before taking separate action. We have some congressmen who are disturbed about it."

Hereford, Canyon and other Panhandle cities approved a 100 per cent pass-through rate for the Pioneer system more than a year ago.

Metcalf said that at first the cities tried to limit the cost of gas pass-through to 60 per cent but that was unacceptable to Pioneer. Litigation on the pass-through rate was then underway in other systems, Metcalf explained, but the cases dragged on and on with no settlement in sight.

"Then we got in information that seemed to support a 100 per cent pass through and the steering committee recommended we do that and that's what we finally agreed to do," Metcalf said.

Canyon is a member of the West Texas Utilities System, an organization of Panhandle cities.

However, Metcalf said of the ruling, which he had not yet read:

"This is interesting. It seems that it may be instrumental in establishing a precedent that can be used in other cases. I think the Commission would probably look at each case individually but this should be a strike for us."

The Railroad Commission order limited Lo-Vaca to an 85 per cent cost of gas pass-through and ordered the company to honor contracts which offered gas at below cost.

Metcalf said he had been following Hereford's efforts to limit Pioneer's pass-through rate.

"I think something definitely needs to be established first. This is why with Hereford willing to take action, I think other cities will be willing to help, maybe financially, to follow through on it and when something has been established there, then each city needs to sit back and take a look at their situation."

Metcalf said that while each Panhandle city could probably act separately to regulate the pass-through rate within its limits, that cities have more authority by acting together through the utilities system.

After an inactive period following the formation of the utilities system, the steering committee met this winter to discuss limitations on the pass-through rate. However, no action was recommended following the meeting.

Watkins tells faculty

WTSU on road to excellence

West Texas State University faculty are already doing some things which are benchmarks of excellence, but must keep the student at the center of all concerns if the university is to be considered significant, President Lloyd Watkins said Wednesday.

The measure of a university is how well its faculty combines teaching, research and public service to focus on the student, Watkins said during his traditional spring address to faculty.

"I submit to you today that the significance of our university cannot be measured by its size, nor by its similarity—nor for that matter lack of similarity—to another institution, nor by its comparative economic largess," he said. "Let me hasten to say none of these things are unimportant. We do most emphatically wish to grow. We should learn from others what we might do better, and we must strive to provide economic recognition for work well done. Nevertheless, none of these things go to the heart of the significance we seek."

Watkins said many of the current problems in financing of higher education in America stem from a public concept that education is not as important as other things.

The fall in public esteem has resulted from an eagerness on the part of educators during the 1950s and 1960s to promise "with Messianic zeal more than any institution could deliver," he said. "Today it is apparent that higher education was not the all-purpose panacea, but there are those who bitterly remember that we implied that we were. These people today are making the mistake of undervaluing the real and enduring worth of colleges and universities."

Campus disorders during the late '60s and early '70s also led to public disenchantment with higher education, he said.

But, transcending the perceived problems with universities is the real loss of a sense of purpose or mission within the universities themselves, Watkins said.

"Throughout America, in colleges and universities large and small, too many men and women working at those institutions in the last two decades forgot that students were the focus of our mission," he said. "Our mission was to involve them in the transmission and in the creation of knowledge, to touch them, to leave them better able to cope economically and better able to contribute as citizens of the United States of

Approval of doctorate for WT said unlikely

West Texas State University officials believe it is unlikely the state's higher education coordinating board will approve a new WT doctoral program in agri-business next week.

The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, is to consider the program during an April 23 meeting in Austin.

Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president, said Tuesday he understands the coordinating board staff will make no recommendation concerning the WTSU doctoral program proposal. Rather, he said, the staff is likely to recommend a moratorium on all new programs for Texas colleges and universities.

He said the current climate is due to a thrust at the state level to hold the line on spending for proliferation of new programs.

The doctoral proposal is the first for the university.

University President Lloyd I. Watkins hinted at the possibility the doctoral program would not gain coordinating board approval when he spoke last week to area businessmen on the university's research efforts.

"Whether the coordination board will this month, within all the strictures they have placed on them, allow us to proceed ahead I cannot say," he told the businessmen. "I can honestly say we have tried."

Watkins said at the time he feels even if the program is not accepted at the April 23 meeting, it will be approved in the not-too-distant future.

The program as proposed would be unique in the United States.

The doctoral proposal is the only one of several proposals from WTSU on the coordinating board agenda. An agenda printed earlier this month included several other WTSU programs.

"All universities in the state have been asked to defer programs which are not of an emergency nature," Watkins said earlier this week. "It is our belief that the doctorate is of such a nature because of the immense importance of the food and fiber business in this region and throughout the nation. We will ask that our other programs be considered at the next earliest opportunity."

The original WTSU requests included approval for a master of arts degree with a major in speech and hearing therapy, a

'Not a cent' says judge

Amarillo wants county to help

Amarillo city commissioners have asked Randall County to pick up part of a $420,000 tab for sewer and curb and gutter on Western Street, a virtually unprecedented request.

Randall County Judge Woody Pond said Monday the county will give "not a cent" for the project.

City Manager John Stiff said the project falls inside the Amarillo city limits but Amarillo commissioners "thought it would be nice if the county started participating on major county thoroughfares."

Stiff said the project will be along Western from I-27 to Hollywood Road, a distance of about a mile. He said the city recently annexed the territory into the city limits.

The project would upgrade the street and would improve the property in the area, he said.

Randall County commissioners will have the opportunity to respond directly to a letter from Stiff at their next Monday's meeting.

Pond received the letter this week from Stiff.

In the letter, Stiff says the project is to cost about $344,359 for storm sewer and $86,221 for curb and gutter.

"The above project is located in Randall County and will increase the possibility of considerable development in Randall County and will enhance the taxable values," Stiff says in the letter. "The enhancement will also be true for the City of Amarillo.

"Since this will benefit both parties, the City Commission hereby requests that Randall County participate financially in the cost of this project. No definite amount was established but they did request official action with the amount to be established by the court."

Commissioners have not budgeted for the expenditure in their current year's budget.

It is much more irritating and frustrating to lose one of a pair socks than it is to lose the pair.

County turns down plat on Canyon North subdivision

Randall County commissioners turned down Monday a plat for the controversial Canyon North subdivision and refused to budge from the position even with more prodding from Developer A.W. Lair.

On a motion from Canyon's Commissioner Paul Lindsey, the commissioners rejected the plat because the mile road Lair had constructed in the subdivision does not meet county road specifications.

Lair told them again he will meet the standards set by a registered engineer and will make an effort to meet the county road policy specifications.

The county's response to the Lair plat came a week after Canyon city commissioners approved the plat, but with the proviso that Lair bring the road up to county standards.

The developer of Hunsley Hills was not present Monday when commissioners initially took action on the plat request. But, he showed up later to substantially reiterate a plea he placed before them a week ago for acceptance of the plat contingent on his bringing the road up to standards.

Speaking to his motion, Lindsey told commissioners Lair had ample warning and instruction on how the road should be constructed and refused to follow county guidelines.

The vote to reject the plat was unanimous.

Lair came into the meeting just as commissioners were finishing up a routine agenda.

He contended initially that the road specifications could be interpreted in such a way that the road would meet standards.

Lair said he has hired a registered Amarillo engineer to perform all required tests on the road for presentation to the commissioners.

But, he also contended the county had no authority to refuse the plat because the subdivision lies within the extra-territorial jurisdiction of the City of Canyon and, he said, is therefore under the jurisdiction of city planning and governing bodies.

Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod, however, assured commissioners they could turn down the plat if the road failed to meet policies they had established.

In other business Monday, commissioners balked at approving what appeared to be a routine resolution concerning county participation in a consortium for administration of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Program, a federally-funded project which provides jobs to unemployed, underemployed and disabled.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi moved for approval of the resolution, but got no second from any other commissioner.

"I'll second the motion," County Judge Woody Pond finally asserted. "All in favor say aye."

But before hands could be raised, Fulgenzi called for discussion of the matter.

Pond explained that the resolution was virtually identical to resolutions the commissioners had routinely approved in past years.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher, though, said he had received criticism from constituents for county participation in the program. He termed it a "make-work" program, and said he doubted the program is worthwhile.

Fletcher said he had tried to get some questions answered concerning the program by officials in Amarillo but they declined to return his telephone calls.

"I'll find some answers to my questions or I won't support it," Fletcher warned. "And, I'm not calling them any more either. They can just call me."

Pond suggested the matter be tabled until next Monday when he said he will have a program official present to answer questions.

Commissioners approved the purchase of two CB radios for use by two Texas Department of Public Safety units in the county. The troopers will be able to receive as well as transmit with the units.

They also approved an agreement between the county and the City of Amarillo under which the county provides the city with automobile registration information. In return, the city pays the county an annual fee of $8311.

Commissioners authorized Sherrod to advertise for bids for about $4500 worth of equipment for use by a criminal investigator who is to be assigned to his office next month. Funds for the equipment and investigator are to come through a federal grant.

Sherrod will also advertise for bids for a new automobile for the investigator, with funds provided from unbudgeted county monies.

Commissioners authorized Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, to pay new computer terminal operators at any rate she had to to obtain workers. She told commissioners she wasn't paying enough currently to keep terminal operators.

Commissioners finally approved a new personnel employment policy which had originally been presented in January. The policy outlines sick leave, vacation, pay raises, insurance, and other county specifications for workers.

Palo Duro Hospital Visitor's Center has been completed as a bicentennial project of the Horizons '76 committee and was inspected this week by the Horizons '76 chairman, Claire Kuehn, and Palo Duro Hospital administrator, Ray Grimes. Dedication rites for the outdoor visitor's center will be conducted next Tuesday, April 20, at 11 a.m. on the site just north of the main building. Local residents are invited.

Campus police check dorm prowler leads

Several leads are being pursued by university police investigating reports that a man entered womens' dormitories numerous times last week dressed as a woman and frightened dorm residents in the showers.

Campus security chief Jim Passons said the incident remained under investigation and that interviews with dorm residents had produced several lines of inquiry.

Passons said that although he had at first doubted the validity of the report, he now believed that a man had been in the dorms.

"At first, when we first got the report, we thought it was some of the girls trying to shake up the others who were pretty scared about it," he said. "The descriptions differed so much."

Extra patrols were, however, put on at night around the dorms and, apparently, the man has not been spotted since late last week. Dorm residents who were sleeping with five and six women crowded into a room are now less edgy and dorm life has largely returned to normal, residents say.

"Girls still don't go out of their rooms at night, like to go to the bathroom, and we still have someone watch while we go down to the showers or let someone know we're going down there," one Cross Hall resident said. But for the most part, the residents are no longer frightened, she said.

Other residents said that life in the dormitories had apparently returned to normal.

The prowler, described as an athletic-looking black man in his late 20s wearing a short skirt, high heels and make up, was seen in Cross, Cousins, Hudspeth and McCaslin Halls during the daytime on April 5, 6 and 7. He was apparently last seen last Wednesday, residents say. Two bomb threats were also investigated at Cross Hall last Wednesday night and one co-ed said she was threatened over the telephone by a male caller who accused her of identifying him to security police.

Genelle Bourland, president of the women's division Canyon Chamber of Commerce, presented the Canyon Chamber of Commerce president, Don Johnston, with a check amounting to $300 following the women's division recent meeting. The money will go toward the chamber's current project to raise replacement funds for the American flags. Other groups and organizations are encouraged to join in the effort to raise $1,500 in funds.

Easter sunrise plans

An ecumenical Easter Sunrise Service is being planned by the Canyon Ministerial Alliance for 6:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday, April 18, in the Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon.

The Ministerial Alliance has sponsored the annual "sunrise" worship for the past several years and all local and area residents are invited to participate. Gate admission to the park is discontinued for the worship services, according to Rev. Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church of Canyon, chairman for the 1976 services.

The park gate will open at 6 a.m. to admit worship service attendees. Pre-service music will be presented.

Pastors of eight local churches will be participating in the annual worship service including Jim Hancock and Dick Sale of the First Baptist Church, Jim Brown of Calvary Baptist Church, Ron Martin of Faith Chapel, Jim Haney of the Episcopal Center, Calvin Rashall of the United Pentecostal Church, Bill Kent of the First United Methodist Church, Baldwin Stribling of the First Presbyterian Church and John Wagoner of the Methodist Student Center.

UIL competitions place CHS second

Canyon High School students took second place in the District 1-AAA University Interscholastic League Academic and Literary Contests held at West Texas State University Friday, April 9.

Canyon High School had a total point count of 117 to come in behind Muleshoe High School which received the overall trophy with 155 points. Perryton High School was third with 116½ points followed by Levelland, 72, and Dumas, 62½.

Winners in the individual events will be representing their schools and District 1-AAA at the Regional Meet in Odessa April 23-24, according to Gene Parker, placement director at WTSU, and director of the UIL event.

CHS students earning firsts were Jo Ann White in news writing; Leslie Gallemore in prose reading; Janice Williams in editorial writing; and Sheryl Dees for ready writing.

Canyon's other placings in the UIL meet include: Royal Brantley as an alternate in prose reading; Janice Williams as a third place in feature writing; Randy Breitling as second place in editorial writing; Bryan Young, third place in headline writing; Marcella Patterson, second place in ready writing; Brad Daniel, third place in science; Linda Whipple, third place in shorthand; Nancy Albers, second place in spelling; and Laura Laycock, second place in typewriting.

In the one-act play UIL competition Canyon High School's cast of eight in "Antigone" took the alternate honors. Director was Neva Chowning. The CHS play cast followed first place Muleshoe which presented "Reynard The Fox" and second place Perryton which presented "Exit The King" by Ionesco.

Schools out for Easter

Canyon Independent School District will have a four day break in observance of the Easter Holidays.

Classes dismiss at 2:30 this afternoon.

Students will not attend classes on Friday, April 16, and no classes will be conducted on Monday, April 19.

Following the Easter Holidays, students and teachers will resume their regular study schedule Tuesday morning.

The final day of classes for the year will be May 28 with a teacher-in-service day on May 29 wrapping up the 1975-76 school year.

Arrive early for campsites

Area residents planning to enjoy Palo Duro Canyon State Park over the Easter weekend should come early to insure finding a campsite, park officials say.

They note that construction of new facilities at the park will limit the number of campsites available to the public this year. The construction, upon completion later this year, will provide improved campsites and picnic areas.

Library friends raise money

Canyon Friends of the Library raised approximately $227.05 from an all-day sale of used books on Saturday, April 10, at the old library building downtown.

The Friends had a number of good selections left and will conduct a follow-up sale on Saturday, April 24, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the old library building to raise additional funds.

Funds raised through the used book sale will be discussed during a general session for all members of the Friends. The funds are to be used for some specific project to benefit the Canyon City Library and the general membership session will begin at 4 p.m. on Thursday, April 22, at Canyon Community Center, according to Linnie Harter, Friends president.

Hospital phone lines are cut

All telephone service into Palo Duro Hospital was cut off Monday morning for about an hour due to the accidental cutting of phone lines by a ditching crew working on the hospital grounds.

Service was restored shortly although Ray Grimes, hospital administrator, did think of using alternate emergency communication equipment if the time for restoration of service was to be longer.

Miss Canyon honors go to Cindy Brooks

The title of Miss Canyon 1976 was bestowed on Cindy Brooks Saturday evening, April 10 at the annual pageant sponsored by Canyon Study Club at the CHS auditorium.

Miss Brooks, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McRoberts of Canyon. She is a member of the Canyon High School Choir and played with the junior varsity girls team. The pageant winner has ash brown hair and stands 5' 6" beneath the crown which she will be wearing as official city hostess for the coming year.

She was crowned by Miss Sharla Wright, the retiring Miss Canyon 1975, and was selected by a panel of judges including Mr. and Mrs. John McKissack of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Powell of Tulia and Mr. and Mrs. John Cluck.

Bob Davis was emcee for the beauty pageant as thirty six high school students participated. The contestants were judged in preapageant activities as well as during the pageant procession.

As Miss Canyon, Miss Brooks received a $50 savings certificate from First National Bank of Canyon, a $50 savings certificate from the West Texas State Bank, a gift certificate from Jean's of Canyon, a bouquet of roses furnished by HR's Flowers and Gifts and a $75 wardrobe account from the sponsoring organization.

In addition, Miss Brooks was appointed a publicity agent's committee from the Canyon Study Club to work with the honoree in future contests. She will be entered in the Top O Texas pageant at Pampa and the Wheatheart of the Nation contest at Perryton soon. She will also serve as official hostess for the City of Canyon at the 1976 Bicentennial Celebration here July 3 and at numerous other functions.

Named as first runner up and receiving the Miss Congeniality Award (selected by fellow contestants) was Miss Laura Taylor. The second place runner up was Miss Eloise Thompson.

Each beauty contestant seeking the title represented a local business or organization in the contest.

Wanted: 80 acres

C of C looks for industrial park land

Wanted: A minimum of 80 acres of relatively flat land near highways and railroad and city. Any reasonable offer will be considered. Call the Canyon Chamber of Commerce any time.

No, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce board of directors isn't going into the farming business.

But, they are looking for something to supplement Canyon's basically agricultural economic base. And that something is industry.

Directors Monday night put out the word they are interested in locating potential sites for development as an industrial park in or around Canyon.

It was the first step toward creation of an industrial park for the city since Canyon was designated an economic development area last month by the Economic Development Administration, a designation which opens the door to various federal financing programs for development.

Chamber President Don Johnston said offers of land should be called or sent to the chamber office or chamber directors.

Already, he told directors during their regular monthly meeting, the chamber has been offered several tracts of land for use as an industrial park site.

One site is just north of Canyon, another is northeast and another is West.

The board indicated it will not be able to purchase outright any land for an industrial park but will try to get an option on at least 80 acres of land.

Once several possible sites are located, the board indicated, the EDA will be asked to fund a feasibility study to determine the best of the sites for industrial use.

The EDA also provides funds for improvements on the site such as water and sewer lines and streets.

The federal agency does not, however, provide funds for the purchase of a site.

Directors heard a report from Johnston on the recent meeting of city officials with EDA officials explaining the various funding programs under the EDA.

City officials have taken a cautious attitude concerning any leadership role in industrial development, and EDA officials have said industrial development is up to the citizens.

Johnston said he will call a special meeting of the chamber directors, Industrial Foundation members and other interested citizens within the next two weeks to begin planning an industrial park and routes for federal funding.

In other business Monday night, the directors heard reports on a host of upcoming chamber activities.

Kenneth Thompson said he anticipates between 70 and 75 entries will be in the July 3—Canyon Days Celebration parade this summer.

Roland Black reported he has ordered $1500 worth of fireworks, double the usual July 4 order, for the bicentennial celebration.

Egg hunting time

Easter eggs by the hundreds have been purchased by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5681 and it's Auxiliary for a Community hunt scheduled Sunday at Conner Park in Canyon.

The hunt will begin at 2 p.m. with prize bunnies to be awarded in each of three divisions.

Designated hunt areas will be arranged to include age divisions up to five years old, ages 6-10, and ages 11-14. Three prizes will be awarded in each division for marked prize eggs.

The traditional community egg hunt is sponsored and supervised by the Lucius Penick Post No. 5681 to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary of Canyon.

Hearing chairman raps weather group statements

General counsel for the Texas Water Development Board termed as "presumptious" statements made by the Plains Weather Improvement Association in a recent letter seeking funds for weather modification activities that he is expected to rule in favor of the group.

Royston Lanning, who chaired hearings last month in Plainview on whether a weather modification permit should be issued to the Plains group and a group from Lamb County, said he has not even received transcripts of the record of the hearings.

He said he will not have a recommendation for the water development board at its regular meeting on Tuesday.

And he said it is presumptious for the Plains association to tell potential customers that they expect a favorable ruling.

The Plains group, which operates out of Hale County, sent a letter to farmers and ranchers within the target area for weather modification activities earlier this month in which the group said it expects a favorable ruling from Lanning.

"I don't know where they got their information," he said.

The Plains letter asks for donations and payments to carry out the weather modification activities. The group has asked for a four-year permit to seed clouds over a widespread South Plains area including portions of Randall County.

Another group, Atmospherics, Inc., of Lamb County, has also asked a four-year permit.

Both groups' requests have been challenged by Citizens for Natural Weather, a farmer-rancher group organized by Nolon Henson and Walter Graham of the Happy Hereford Ranch south of Canyon. Public hearings on the permits have been held on both permits and ajudicatory hearings have also been held with Lanning as counsel.

While Lanning says he does not expect to make a formal recommendation next week to the water development board, discussion of the weather modification permits is on the agenda of the board.

Lanning said it would take him at least two weeks to write an opinion on the cases after he receives transcripts of the testimony given at the adjudicatory hearings.

Girls capture district title

A dozen Canyon High girls will go on to regional competition as CHS took the district title from defending Perryton Saturday.

Canyon High scored 183½ in the district meet last weekend at the WTSU track to down second place Perryton with 155¼. Muleshoe, Levelland and Dumas trailed far behind the top two teams.

Qualifying for regional meet April 24 at Odessa are the three relay teams, Merry Johnson first in the 440-yard dash; Robena Johnson first in the 220; Deede Johnson first in both the 60- and 100-yard dashes; Louise Davis and Merry Johnson first and second in the triple jump; Merry Johnson first in the high jump; Becky Williams, first in the shot put and Terre Tucker, second in the long jump.

The 440-relay team of Tucker, Davis, Deede Johnson and Merry Johnson won the event in 48.5, well ahead of second place Muleshoe, who finished in 51.2.

The 880-relay team of Tucker, Davis, Robena Johnson and Teri Morrison won in 1:45.7 and the mile relay team set a school record with a 4:00 run. On the mile relay team is Tucker, Davis, Merry and Robena Johnson.

Robena also bested her own school record in the 220, running in 25 seconds flat.

Although Canyon girls have won well at earlier meets, the depth of CHS talent surprised opponents.

"We had better times than Perryton in individual events," head coach Bob Schneider said, "But as far as depth goes, we had not done as well in depth. Some of our kids did a real good job Saturday."

CHS had multiple winners in most events, adding points to the team total.

In the triple jump, it was Canyon one, two, three as Terri Tucker finished third behind Davis and Merry Johnson.

In the 440-dash, Beck Williams added a sixth place finish and Morrison took a fifth in the 220 and a fourth in the 60-yard dash.

CHS runners Tammy Blewett, Jana Umberson and Lisa Cathy finished third, fifth and sixth, respectively, in the 80-yard hurdles while Janet Brown and Terry Hunter added a fourth and fifth in the 880-run.

In the high jump, Davis and Cathy tied with Muleshoe and Perryton jumpers for fifth place and Deede Johnson was sixth in the long jump.

In the discus, Sharon Brown won fourth and Renee McDonald placed fifth and Julie Rea was sixth in shot put.

Canyon won 10 of the 14 track and field events and had 17 other place-winners.

The ninth grade team placed first in the freshman competition, winning 148 to Levelland's 139.

Jr. high boys win at area track meets

Canyon eighth grade boys won an area track meet in Perryton Saturday, while ninth grade boys placed second in their level and seventh graders placed fifth.

The eighth grade team scored 148 points, well ahead of second place Pampa's 96 as CJHS track men took awards in every event.

Jeff McKay won all five events in which he was entered, with the highlight being a 5-10 jump to win the high jump.

"This is just a tremendous height for an eighth grader," said Coach Ken Williams.

McKay also won the long jump, the 60-yard high hurdles and anchored the winning 440 and 880 yard relay teams.

Blaine White set a school and meet record of 1:34.9 in the 660 yard run and Brant Lacy scored first in the discus and fourth in shot put.

The 440 relay team is Robert Johnson, Blaine White, Bruce Byrd and McKay and the 880 relay team is Bill Carney, Hall, Watson and McKay.

Dee Hall placed third in the pole vault and Joe Cockrell placed fourth in the 100 yard dash. Hall was fifth in the 100 low hurdles and Ken Johnson was second in the 880 yard run.

Barry Watson placed second and Robert Johnson fourth behind McKay in the 60 yard high hurdles.

Ninth graders, paced by miler Jack Crager, placed second behind Pampa in the freshman meet.

Crager turned in a blistering 4:51 mile run to set both a school and a track record.

"That is just unbelievable for a ninth grader," said Williams, who added that he expected Crager to trim the time even more as the season continued.

Billy Bender added another first place win for CJHS in the 220, running in 24 seconds. Allen Adams was second with 24.4.

Others adding to the team total were Adams, third in discus and sixth in shot put; Steve Thompson, third in high jump; Ron Eller, third in pole vault; Steve Schmidt, second in the 880 run and Don Miller, sixth; Thompson, second in the 120 high hurdles; Danny Whipple, sixth in 440 dash.

The mile relay team of Miller, Steven Langford, Adams and Bender placed second with a 3:48.6 time and the 440 relay team of Whipple, Bender, Clements and Hicks placed fourth with a 48 time.

Seventh graders won the pole vault, the 660 run and the 440 dash. Terry McKinney took the pole vault, while Greg Carlisle won the 660 and Bryan Clemence took the 440.

Place winners in the seventh grade include Johnny Johnson and David Harbin, tied for fourth in the high jump; Ronald Bye, fourth in the long jump; Johnson fourth in the 100 low hurdles and Scott Wall, sixth in the 880 run.

The relay team of Bye, Johnson, Larry Ray and Robby Owen came in fifth in the 880 relay and fourth in the 440.

The boys are competing today in Plainview.

Drugs, DWIs, thefts keep city police busy

Several Amarillo residents, in town according to police to attend the Willie Nelson concert Friday night, were arrested for possession of marijuana.

Fernando Vitela, Jr. of Amarillo was charged with driving while intoxicated and a 17-year-old with him was charged with possession of marijuana.

Two other 17-year-old girls from Amarillo were arrested Friday and pleaded guilty to illegal possession of alcohol. Possession of marijuana charges were dropped.

A Canyon motorist was injured slightly when her car was struck early Sunday morning in a collision at 4th Avenue and 11th Street. Janell Walker Pyle, who was driving on 4th Avenue, was injured slightly. The other driver, Steve Michael Ricketts, an Amarillo High student, was charged with DWI.

Other arrests for DWI included Lane Conley Stoneham of Canyon, charged on Saturday night and Bobby James Cassetty of Vega, arrested early Sunday morning.

The theft of radio equipment valued at $809 was reported Saturday from an auto parked outside a Canyon restaurant. Wayne Judkins of Amarillo said he left his car to go eat and when he returned the radios were missing.

Police are also investigating the theft of a bicycle valued at $150, taken from the front porch of Darrel Edwards in Canyon sometime Saturday or Sunday.

Other theft reports include $2.50 in gasoline reported taken from Handy Hut Saturday and six bags of ice stolen from the outside ice vending machine at Taylor and Sons Saturday night.

Larry Pyeatt of Tulia pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct after being accused of creating a disturbance at Handy Hut Sunday. He was fined $50 in municipal court.

Todd Allen Reed pleaded guilty to threatening a juvenile and was fined $200. He had been arrested last September and charged with a felony after he was accused of exposing himself to two teenage girls. The charge was reduced to a misdemeanor and was heard last week in municipal court.

THE PRESCRIPTION REGULATIONS ARE GETTING STRICTER!

Time was when things were fairly simple. Your doctor examined you, determined what was wrong and gave you a prescription to bring to your pharmacist to be compounded.

Nowadays it is getting more complicated to fill prescriptions. Such terms as Bioavailability, adverse drug reactions and patient medication profiles have come into picture. Then in addition there are many new labeling requirements, special containers, and in a large number of cases complex paper work. The time our pharmacists save in preparing a prescription is more than taken up by all the new requirements they have to follow.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Canyon youth killed in one-car crash

Nineteen year old "Marty" Widick of Canyon was killed and three other local men were injured early Monday when a heavy-duty station wagon overturned four miles west of Miami, Texas on U.S. 60.

Martin Edward "Marty" Widick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Widick of 1402 9th Avenue, Canyon, was driving the vehicle which rolled twice about 6:30 a.m. on Monday.

Investigating officers said the station wagon was eastbound on U.S. 60 when it left the roadway and overturned. All passengers in the vehicle were employees of Santa Fe Railroad.

Kenny Dale Roberts, 25, of 8700 Canyon Drive was a passenger in the Widick vehicle as were Jeffery David Cates, 19, of 1922 Goodnight Trail and Ronald Evan Branum, 18, of 2106 5th Avenue, Canyon.

Roberts sustained a broken leg and chest injuries in the mishap and received emergency medical treatment at Highland General Hospital in Pampa before being transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, where he was reported in critical condition.

The other two passengers were reported in good condition at Highland General Hospital of Pampa. Branum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Branum of 2106 5th Avenue, Canyon, and Cates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates of 1922 Goodnight Trail, Amarillo.

Martin Edward "Marty" Widick had been a Canyon resident for 15 years after the Widick family moved here from Amarillo in 1960. He attended Canyon Public Schools and was graduated from Canyon High School in 1974. He was a member of the CHS basketball teams in 1973-74. He attended West Texas State University and is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He later became a track maintenance employee of Santa Fe. He was a member of Canyon's First Baptist Church.

Funeral services for Martin Widick were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Canyon with Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor, officiating.

Arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon and burial was conducted at Memorial Park Cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Serving as pallbearers were Jay Langen, Chris Moreland, David Fite, Wayne Pitt, Tom Conoley and Paul Griffin.

Survivors other than the parents include three brothers, David of Brownsville, Bill of Garland and Rick of Roswell, New Mexico.

Kappa Alpha fraternity members presented the Widick family with a Riverside Family Bible and have established a scholarship fund in memory of Marty Widick.

CHS netters win district

Two Canyon High netters advanced to regional competition as they downed district opponents on the WTSU courts Saturday.

Todd Kent, sophomore with a 21-3 season record, won the district singles. He defeated Vinson of Muleshoe, 6-1 and 6-1 and then went on to best Sheehan of Dumas 6-1 and 6-0.

In the finals, Kent topped Canyon's Mark Sullivan, 6-4 and 6-1 to take the district title.

Sullivan, with a 19-5 record that includes two losses to Kent, placed second after beating Moore of Dumas 6-0 and 6-1; Slaydon of Muleshoe 6-1 and 6-0 and Replogle of Perryton 6-3 and 6-4.

Kent and Sullivan will play in the regional tournament April 30-May 1 at Odessa.

Honor student

Clarence F. Marshall of Canyon will be among students honored at South Plains College who have maintained a 4.0 grade point average (all A's) for the 1975 spring or fall semester.

Young farmers meet Thursday

Bedford Forrest, KVII-TV (Channel 7, Amarillo), was the guest speaker for the March session of the Young Farmers Association in Canyon.

The Young Farmers will be meeting April 15 at 7:30 p.m. for a discussion on soil conservation practices and anyone interested in the organization is invited to attend.

The meeting will be held at the vocational agriculture department of Canyon High School and Bill Casteel will be the guest speaker.

News Brief

Lee Kendle, a senior at West Texas State University from Amarillo, will be featured in a voice recital at 4 p.m. April 14 in the WTSU Branding Iron Theatre.

Jehovah circuit session scheduled for weekend

Dennis N. Bennett, traveling District Overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses, will be featured speaker at the "Become Doers of the Word" semiannual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses for the Panhandle area at the West Texas State University Activities Building, April 17, 18.

"This assembly will bring eleven hundred to twelve hundred to Canyon for the two day assembly," said Rayford Loudder of the Canyon congregation. "The purpose of the assembly is to increase Bible knowledge and give practical examples by means of discussions, demonstrations, and lectures of how Bible principles apply in our daily lives and how we can help others to apply Bible principles in their lives."

The program is open to the public and will include a Saturday afternoon "Theocratic School," with speakers from the area. Following will be welcome by D.N. Bennett, the traveling District Overseer, and the evening focus on "An Active Faith."

Bennett is originally from London, England and came to the United States in 1949 after ten years of ministerial service in England. Since then he has had various assignments in New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Michigan and Indiana. Presently, he travels with his wife, Banita, in a five state area as District Overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses.

While in Canyon for the Assembly, Bennett will be on the program several times and will be the featured speaker Sunday, April 18, at 2 p.m. with a talk titled "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?".

All Sessions are free and the public welcome.

STATE OF TEXAS
TO: IKE BURNS, Respondent.
GREETINGS:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable District Court, 181st Judicial District, Randall County, Texas, at the Courthouse of said county in Canyon, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of High Plains Children's Home, Petitioner, filed in said Court on the 9th day of April, 1976, against Ike Burns, Respondent, and said suit being numbered 15,-561-B on the docket of said Court, and entitled "In the Interest of a Baby Boy, a Child," the nature of which suit is a request to terminate the parent-child relationship. Said child was born the 6th day of March, 1976, in Amarillo, Potter County, Texas.

The Court has authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree in the child's interest which will be binding upon you, including the termination of the parent-child relationship, the determination of paternity, and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the child's adoption.

ISSUED AND GIVEN under my hand and seal of said Court at Canyon, Texas, this the 9th day of April, 1976.

Fourth grade student, Lori Bingham, and her classmates in the homeroom of Mrs. Price's fourth grade at Rex Reeves Elementary School share the sentiment of local residents by declaring April is Wet from the bulletin board. Thus far, however, April has been rather dry in 1976.

America."

Excursions outside the halls of academe by professors and administrators, while tending to focus on something other than a student-oriented mission, were valuable, however, Watkins said.

In providing a university with a student-centered orientation, Watkins said the three basics of college instruction must be brought into clear focus. Prominence in higher education can be regained by a stress on the student.

Most really outstanding teachers, he said, are involved in research and manage to involve their students in research.

"Let me reiterate that in my advocacy for a student-centered university, I have no patience with those who use their professed concern for students as an excuse to ignore research and study, or the world into which students will be graduated," he said. "That type of concern is precisely what students do not need and is an excellent prescription for the creation of a second-rate institution."

The basic prescription for educational excellence and significance is teaching, research and public service or awareness, woven together and focused upon students, he said.

A student-centered university is not one which panders to each passing student whim, but is one in which students are heard.

Nor does a student-centered university try to do everything for students. It rather, encourages responsible initiative.

A student-centered university is not a soft place of easy grades, but is a place where abilities are nurtured and challenged.

"A student-centered university is a caring university," he said. "I believe that is the type of university which will be considered significant in the decades ahead. I believe that we at West Texas State University care. Because of this, I feel confident society will care for us."

Watkins also announced the recipients of this year's faculty venture fund awards. They are Dr. Ted H. Montgomery, $400, for visual aids for meat science program; Dr. Maria Tarrab and Dr. Mary Gill, $800, for materials for a bilingual education program; Paul Matney, $53, for 35 mm slides in mass communications program; Richard Jackson, $310, for consultation with state district court judges in the area; Dr. Garry Nall, $225, to assemble a collection of slides on the evolution of farm machinery; Dr. Jimmie L. Green, $400, to prepare soil monoliths; Mrs. Willie McCall, $650, to establish a program in legal office work; Dr. Allen Early, $145, to prepare a film on economic concepts of supply and demand; Dr. James R. Underwood, $680, to provide travel expenses to an international meeting; Dr. Donald Envick, $215, to compare synthetic lubricants with premium automobile motor oils; Dr. Robert Sawvell, $130, to buy equipment for an audio-tutorial laboratory; Dr. Enid Bates, $185, to acquire film and filmstrip for elementary language arts students; Dr. Gary Byrd, $634, to develop materials for the teaching of psychology.

ders to be entered by the two County boards will impose no monetary responsibility upon Amarillo save the responsibility to pay a proportionate part of Canyon's bonded indebtedness determined as of Jan. 1, preceding the effective date of the de-annexation and annexation."

The guidelines are the first created to systematize a three-year struggle between boards for control over the de-annexation situation.

In the wake of the two recent bond issue defeats, the Canyon board has altered an original position opposing any de-annexations of territory.

Less than a month ago, the board approved a de-annexation of about 300 acres of land under development by Emmett Fuqua. Fuqua paid the CISD nearly $60,-000 for potential lost income due to the de-annexation.

The board had fought an earlier de-annexation effort by Glen O'Dell for removal of 160 acres of land from the CISD. O'Dell eventually paid $30,000 and the de-annexation has been effected.

Leads project

Mike Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. "Bill" Wilson of Canyon, has been named superintendent of the new McKinney Falls State Park which opened Wednesday near Austin.

Wilson, a graduate of West Texas State University, has worked at Palo Duro Canyon State Park, Huntsville State Park, LBJ State Park. The new 700-acre state park is located about nine miles southeast of Austin.

Brothers, separated 9 years ago, look forward to future together

Graduation next month will mark the beginning of a new life for a Canyon High senior who has only recently found the twin brothers from whom he was separated nine years ago.

Roy Pylant, who lives at High Plains Childrens' Home, was visited last weekend by his brothers, Fred and Ted Clark, 19, and the three made plans for Roy to move to Dallas with them in June, attend college and live with the twins' adoptive parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark.

After nine years of not knowing the whereabouts of his brothers, Roy received a letter from them at Thanksgiving.

"Ted went back to welfare and found out where I was," Roy said. "I couldn't find out anything then."

Roy said he called his brothers the same day he got their letter and visited them in Dallas at Christmas.

The three boys entered a foster home during a period of economic problems in their own family, Roy said, on the condition that they would not be separated.

"We weren't supposed to be split up but welfare made a mistake," Roy explained. He was separated from his brothers immediately and the twins were adopted by the Clarks, who also have a daughter.

Fred will enroll in college studying psychology and Ted is studying para-medics. Roy also plans to enroll in college following graduation.

And the three don't plan to be separated again.

"We'll live together," said Ted firmly. "We won't be split up again."

Education professors revise textbook here

Two education professors at West Texas State University have recently revised a textbook they had printed several years ago.

Dr. Wilma Jo Bush, associate professor of education, and Dr. Kenneth Waugh, professor of education and director of the Center for Testing, Academic and Career Counseling, recently received published copies of the second edition of "Diagnosing Learning Disabilities."

Published by Charles Merrill Publishers, the book is a revision of "Diagnosing Learning Disorders," which was printed in 1971.

"New information has become available along with a refinement of diagnosing. The publishers thought that it was time for the book to be revised," Dr. Waugh explained.

The second edition, written last spring, contains four new chapters on teacher assessment, task analysis procedure, criterion-referenced testing and additional information on reporting test data, Dr. Bush said. An additional 177 pages are in the second edition.

Dr. Waugh said that the first edition was adopted by 120 universities and colleges across the country and international sales have been reported on the new edition.

Several WTSU students and diagnosticians from the Panhandle area contributed charts and research for the revised edition.

Chorale will perform work by Dr. Nelson

Members of the West Texas State University Chorale and Collegiate Choir will present a work by Dr. Joseph Nelson, associate professor of music, at 3 p.m. April 25 in the WTSU Branding Iron Theatre.

"Three Parables" written by Dr. Nelson will be performed by the Chorale with accompaniment by a synthesizer. Requests for copies of the number have been received from Oral Roberts University and Wichita State University.

Other Chorale numbers will be "Radiant Light," arranged by P. Christiansen; "Abenlied," Brahms; "Spherical Madrigals," Ross Lee Finney, artist-in-residence at WTSU; and "Ain't Got Time to Die," H. Johnson.

Selections to be sung by the combined choirs will include "Ave Vervii Corpus" by W. Byrd, "O Praise the Lord With One Consent" by Handel and "So Said Tom Paine" by Cecil Effinger.

Gene Howe News

Variety show was fantastic

By KAROLYN FARMER

THE VARIETY SHOW held at Gene Howe School last Monday night was really fantastic! It looked like at least half of the school's 600-plus students were involved in some way in the production.

"Hee-Haw" was the theme for the show, and hillbillies, cowboys and cowgirls of every description displayed their talents to the standing-room-only audience.

"Kids" from kindergarten-age through teacher-age entertained us with songs, jokes and folk-dances. Luther Lawless, Bob Dowell, Robert White and Gary Beasley even performed their "Looked the World Over" song twice. (We're not sure if it was by popular demand, or because they wanted a second chance).

Margie Phillips was the producer, director and MC for the Variety Show, and did her usual fabulous job. She had a lot of help from the teachers and staff, whose song and dance number was the hit of the show.

Of course, everyone around here knows what a well-groomed, proper, respectable group of people our Gene Howe teachers and staff are. But after seeing them dressed in the weirdest and most hilarious costumes ever assembled in one place, that reputation may be hard to regain.

Many thanks go to the parents and relatives who attended the Variety Show, many of whom patiently stood through the performance. The terrific response from our children and adults was just one more example of the great community cooperation we're so fortunate to have in our area.

A special thanks goes to several Gene Howe PTA members who constructed the scenery used in the Variety Show: Phyllis Hicks, Johnny Hicks, Sarah Edwards, Sandra Wait, Raydell Palmer and Pat Seth.

Proceeds from the Variety Show were $785.45. This money will remain in the bank until more definite plans are made, but the PTA Executive Committee is exploring possible ways to improve the school playground (a combination tennis court, volleyball, basketball area).

"HIS NAME IS Wonderful" was the theme of Mrs. Jerry (Polly) Hagee's testimony at the April luncheon of Christian Women's Club last Monday.

Polly and another special friend of mine, Mrs. Gene Hay (formerly Patsy Crabb, of Amarillo), drove from Oklahoma City on Sunday.

Beverly Terrell will be the featured speaker at the May meeting of CWC. Mrs. Terrell, who has taken part in many Billy Graham Crusades, is an internationally known speaker and vocalist.

Christian Women's Club does not have a membership, as such, and everyone is invited to attend the monthly luncheon meetings. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, May 5, beginning at noon in the Villa Inn Tropical Room. Mrs. Larry (Yvonda) Stokes, who lives in the Gene Howe area, is reservations chairman.

Some of our local ladies who attended last Monday's meeting were Darlene Campbell, Sandra Gilmore, Mary Lou Enloe, Margaret Davis and Joan Fowlkes.

Mrs. Ed (Carol) Harrell, of Canyon, acted as chairman for the April meeting.

VALARIE CHEDESTER WAS hostess to six of her friends for a slumber party last Friday night. The girls especially enjoyed fixing their own supper. They dug a trench in the Chedester's backyard, and, with the help of Valarie's father, built a fire for their weenie roast.

The evening's big excitement came when the girls' slumber party was "raided" by several neighborhood "males."

Valarie is the daughter of Louis and Linda Chedester.

LOIS AND JOE Nix and Susie went to Oklahoma City last weekend where Susie auditioned for the Ice Follies Company. Linda Dee Hughes, Susie's skating instructor, also went with the Nix family.

The group also enjoyed attending an Ice Follies performance while in Oklahoma City.

Susie, who is a senior at CHS, is already quite an experienced skater. She spent last summer studying and performing at the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs.

HANK AND GAYLE Lichte, Pam and Leslie enjoyed a visit last week by Hank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Lichte, of Houston.

Hank was also kept busy performing in the recent Shrine Circus. He is a member of the local Shriner's Drum and Bugle Corps.

HELP! VOLUNTEERS ARE very much needed to assist Mrs. Davida Alexander in the Early Childhood Program classes. Because of the overcrowded conditions at Gene Howe School, the Early Childhood classes are held in the Lamount Drive Baptist Church near the school.

A recent burglary at the church has caused understandable concern to both Davida and Mr. Lawless, and has emphasized the need for another adult to be present during the class periods.

The Early Childhood classes are held Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 in the morning, and from 1:00 to 3:00 in the afternoon.

If you would be able to spare some time — one day, or even just one morning or afternoon — to be present and assist Mrs. Emanuel, it would really be appreciated. Please contact Sherrie Cates at 355-2080 to offer your help with this project.

MR. DAVE CORLEY and Mr. B.B. Kendrick, of CJHS, came to Gene Howe School on Wednesday of last week to assist our sixth graders in choosing and signing up for next year's classes.

Mr. Corley and Mr. Kendrick visited each of the sixth grade classes and counseled individually with the boys and girls. Of course, we who are parents of sixth graders really appreciate this personal attention and guidance.

CHEERLEADERS FROM CJHS visited at Gene Howe on Wednesday of this week and talked to the girls and boys who are interested in trying out for cheerleader.

THURSDAY, MAY 6TH, is the date set for Pre-Schoolers and their parents to visit Gene Howe. Both Mr. Jerry Jacobs, CISD Superintendent, and Mr. Luther Lawless, Gene Howe Principal, will speak to the parents whose children will be entering kindergarten next fall.

If you are the parent of a child who will be five years old by next September 1st, or know of someone in this category, please contact the Gene Howe office for pre-registration information.

THE CANYON CLASSROOM Teachers Association held their April meeting at Gene Howe School last Tuesday. They were treated to a special "command" performance by the Gene Howe "Hillbilly" teachers, who repeated their Variety Show act.

STAGE AND SCREEN actress, Savannah Bentley, visited last week with Phyllis Hicks while spending a few days in Amarillo. Savannah Bentley is the stage name of Brenda Solnick, who grew up in Amarillo and is a former classmate of Phyllis.

Miss Bentley now lives in Los Angeles, where she is involved in writing screen plays, as well as acting.

THE VILLAGE OF Lake Tanglewood held elections for village officers on Saturday, April 3rd. Re-elected as Mayor was Leo Forrest, while M.L. (Moon) Ott and Mrs. W.W. (Thelma) Lofgren were re-elected as Aldermen.

The residents of Lake Tanglewood are looking forward to the opening of the clubhouse and cafe. These facilities will soon be available for the residents and their guests, only.

Work will also soon be completed on the alarm system being installed in the Lake Tanglewood area. The alarm system for both fire and disaster emergencies, will be placed in several locations.

* * *

THE LAKE TANGLEWOOD Fire Department held their monthly meeting this past Tuesday. Mr. Doss Dupuis is the Village Fire Marshal and Mrs. Betty Thomas serves as Co-Fire Marshal.

The women of the Lake Tanglewood community are especially proud of their active women's division of the department which is called upon to fight fires occurring during daytime hours while most of the men are away at work.

THE NORTH PLAINS ACLD will hold their next meeting on Thursday, April 22, at the First Christian Church in Amarillo. The association, made up of people interested in children with learning disabilities, will have as its featured speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Savage.

Mrs. Savage, a well-known expert in the field of learning disabilities, is associated with the Dallas Academy.

The North Plains ACLD, in association with North Amarillo Kiwanis Club and Kids, Inc., will be forming a T-ball team in May for girls and boys who have learning problems. The fee, which includes a team shirt, is $6.

This is a wonderful opportunity for these children, since they cannot function well on the competitive regular Kids, Inc. teams. If you are interested in details, please call Larry Wilson (383-4779) or Bill Grant (355-5100) after 5 p.m.

The last Mother's Rap Session of this school year will be held on Tuesday, April 27th at 10:00. The meeting will be at 4406 Tawney Street in Amarillo. All members and interested persons are urged to attend this informal sharing session.

Among the new ACLD officers selected by the nominating committee are Ellen Wilson, Gene Howe Diagnostician, Mrs. Jerry (Wilma Jean) Jacobs and Carla Tankersly, both of Canyon.

SCHOOL WILL LET out at 2:30 today (Thursday) for Easter Vacation, and will resume on Tuesday, April 20th.

Easter is a particularly special time for young children, with the joy of egg-hunting and candy-eating.

But much, much more than that is the vivid reminder of our Lord's death and resurrection and the beautiful gift of salvation through him.

Parents, please be sure to take your family to church this Sunday. No amount of money can buy any gift for your children that can equal your example of faith in and love for God.

Dianne Bim, home economist for Southwestern Public Services, presented a program on foods and the microwave oven for members and guests of University Study Club Friday afternoon at the Farm Bureau Building. Shown with the SWPS consumer representative are Mary Jo Hales, center, and Dorothy Olson, USC members.

Eleven women named to distinguished listing

Eleven women from Canyon are among the 212 women nominated for the Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Awards to be presented by West Texas State University April 24.

The Canyon nominees are Charlotte Rugel Brantley, Sharon Brown, Dr. Jo Bush, Ada Violet Clark, Ruth Cross, Margaret Harper, Linnie Harter, Dr. Ruth Lowes, Margaret Echols Moore, Claudia Neelley and Sue Park.

The recipients of the award will be honored that day at a Bicentennial Luncheon which will feature an address by Sara Weddington, attorney and member of the Texas House of Representatives.

The Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Awards are being given for the first time this year to highlight the role women have played in the development of the Panhandle.

Women from the top 32 counties of the Texas Panhandle have been nominated for their distinguished business, professional and volunteer service.

The luncheon will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the WTSU East Dining Hall. In addition to Ms. Weddington's talk on "Women: Past, Present and Future," program plans include a Media Festival, exhibits by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and music by the New Day Singers of West Texas State.

Tickets are $3.75 and should be purchased by April 20. For tickets, please write Dr. Enid Bates, Chairman, Women's Program Committee, Box 455, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016 or telephone (806) 656-2172.

Honors extended for DZ seniors

The graduating seniors of the Zeta Zeta chapter of Delta Zeta were honored April 12 in the home of Mrs. J.D. Parker. An initiation service conducted by Diane Fitzgerald, La Veda Burks, Marsha Watson, Peggy Trosper, and Patti Kilpatrick welcomed the new alumnae.

At the conclusion of the ceremony each senior was presented with a graduation gift. The honored guests were then entertained with a salad supper hosted by the Canyon Alumnae Chapter.

Honored seniors included Roberta Burrow, Merriellen Lyer, Jan Henson, Jill Johnston, Donna Laminack, Susan Montgomery, Sandra Oldham, Penny Pye, Pam Vestal and Linda Wise.

Next meeting of the Canyon Alumnae will be held May 10 at 7:00 in the meeting room of the museum, when Dr. Jim Hanson will present the program.

I WANT TO wish each and everyone a Happy Easter and may the promise of the Risen Lord and the glory of His love fill you heart with lasting peace and blessings from above. Reba.

81st birthday is recognized at coffee

Mrs. Birtie Culp of Happy was honored on her 81st birthday with a coffee last Thursday morning at the home of Kate McManigal. The honoree was presented with a corsage by the hostess for the occasion as approximately eighty guests attended.

The serving table was covered with a floor length red and white checkered cloth with a white counterpane over it. The table was centered with a floral arrangement of carnations, daisies, roses, and baby's breath. China, silver and red and white checkered napkins completed the table appointment.

Several kinds of cakes and cookies, tea, coffee, and orange juice were served.

Out-of-town guests included Helen Piehl, Flossie Johnston, Helen Davis, and Ora Cox from Canyon; Roxie Gillespie, Eula Hayes, Becky Culp, Bertie Belle Kelley, and Karen Kelley from Amarillo; Lucile Custer, Madge West, Lena Mae Watson, and Helen Dunlap from Floydada; and Helen Gilbert from Albany, Oregon.

Retired teachers to meet Friday

The National Retired Teachers Association of Potter and Randall Counties will meet Friday, April 16, at 11:30 a.m. at the Colonial Cafeteria in Amarillo.

Dr. Ruth Lowes of Canyon will preside at the regular monthly business meeting.

Entertainment will be a travelogue by Miss Stella Elkins entitled "Two Can Do It." A feature of her travels in Brazil. Miss Elkins formerly taught history in Pikesville College in Eastern Kentucky.

During her five years of residence in Amarillo she has been active in the Westminister Presbyterian Church, Delta Kappa Gamma, The Retired Teachers Association, and the American Association of University Women. All members are urged to attend the luncheon meeting.

FIVE Good Reasons Why You Should Vote For Bob Henry, Candidate For Randall County Commissioner, Precinct 3:

1.

Collectively, Bob Henry has over 5 years experience working on county roads. He knows Randall County's needs.

2.

In 1975, Randall County taxes increased 33%. Like you, Bob Henry is a taxpayer and he wants to cut excess spending.

3.

By 1980, a 25% growth rate is projected for Randall County. Bob Henry wants to keep pace with our growth while maintaining county specifications.

4.

If elected, Bob Henry will be open-minded on all issues. He will not favor power groups, but will treat all taxpayers equally.

5.

Precinct 3 encompasses two-thirds of Randall County. Bob Henry will not shirk his responsbilities to the taxpayers of this vast area. He's one of you.

For A Better Randall County, Elect Bob Henry County Commissioner, Precinct 3 On May 1st.

INVESTMENTS SEMINAR

During October and November of 1974, when most people were bearish on stocks, Dr. Jerry Miller held an investment seminar in which he described the depressed market as an "opportunity of a life-time." The Dow Jones Industrial Average was below 600 at that time and is currently near the 1000 level. Many stocks recommended during the previous seminar have more than doubled in market price since that time.

Dr. Miller currently favors long-term fixed income instruments and special positions in common stocks. The second seminar which is to begin April 29, 1976, will consist of three analytical sessions.

CHS athletes are recognized

TOPS — in girls' basketball this year were Marci Davis, named Most Valuable Guard and Robena Johnson, chosen Most Valuable Forward.

GRIDIRON HEROS — Len Schmidt was named Most Valuable Offensive Player this year, while Wayne Robinson received dual awards for Most Valuable Defensive Player and the Coach's Player of the Year.

BASKETBALL CHOICE — John Johnson, chosen Most Valuable Player, is congratulated by his coach, B.B. Kendrick.

ROYALTY — Selected Basketball King and Queen by the players were Richard McDonald and Merry Joy Johnson.

ON THE DIAMOND — Jay Huey is rated tops as CHS' Most Valuable Player for Baseball.

Kendrick plans for:

Summer as player-coach abroad

When B.B. Kendrick returns this summer from a five week tour of Africa, he expects to be better prepared to work as a coach and counselor with Canyon young people.

Kendrick will go to Africa as a basketball player-coach for Sports Ambassadors, a non-sectarian, non-denominational missionary organization that uses athletics as a forum for their evangelism.

"It's a missionary endeavor," Kendrick said. "But we use athletics, in this case, basketball, as an entrance to get before the people. Basketball is such a growing sport that players and coaches are welcome to give clinics and coach and help the local players."

Kendrick said the team would play not only the national teams of the nations in which they visit, but would also play university and high school teams.

"We'll spend a lot of time in the public schools," he said. Every team member is scheduled to give a daily clinic in addition to playing at least two games a day, he said.

The only missionary message will come at halftime, during a 15-minute show. Some of the players can sing or play guitar and others will give a short testimony, Kendrick said. The audience will be invited to talk to players following the game. Translated Bibles and Bible study courses will be distributed to them.

Sports Ambassadors will send five basketball teams, a baseball team and a women's basketball team this summer, Kendrick said. In addition to Africa, teams will go to South America, New Guinea, the Orient and the Phillipines.

Kendrick will leave June 11 for a weeks training session in San Jose, Calif. Then the team will fly to Senegal and from there visit Nigeria, Kenya and Ethiopia. Tenative plans have been made to spend the last several days in Israel. The group will return July 26.

All 13 team members will share expenses for travel, food, uniforms, sports equipment and literature to hand out. Kendrick's share will be $2450 for the trip.

He is hoping to get donations to help with expenses, but said he plans to make the trip regardless.

Kendrick also hopes that when he returns, he can speak to clubs and groups about his experiences.

"The trip won't benefit anybody but me unless, when I get back, I can share it with others," he said. Kendrick said he would work up a program for youth groups and organizations.

Kendrick said he feels strongly about making the trip.

"The only talent God gave me is the ability to play basketball and the ability to teach others," he said. The trip is a way to put that ability to use in his religion.

Kendrick said he expects his experiences to help him in dealing with youngsters here.

"I can help kids on so many levels, as a coach. They have financial problems, moral problems, school problems, things a pastor doesn't see. I feel like I'll be a better person after this trip."

He is a counselor at Canyon Junior High and is head basketball coach at the high school.

Kendrick has spoken to several groups this week about his trip. Persons who would like to donate may contact Kendrick at his home at 1100 Brookhaven or can call 655-4685. Contributions in his name can be sent directly to Sports Ambassadors, 3033 Scott Blvd., P. O. Box 66, Santa Clara, Calif 95050.

4-H Livestock judging teams win

By PAUL SAMMONS
Asst. County Extension Agent

The District 1 4-H Roundup Judging Contests were held on April 10, 1976 at WT. Randall County 4-H had junior and senior livestock judging teams entered. The junior 4-H team finished fourth in overall competition and third in beef cattle. Senior team member, Mark Cox, tied for third in swine.

The junior 4-H team finished fourth in overall competition and third in beef cattle. Junior team members, Mitch Carthel, finished first in swine and Randy Deckard finished second in beef cattle. There was a three-way tie in junior beef cattle and was broken by total points scored.

All 4-Hers worked real hard in preparing for the contest and had a tremendous showing for first year teams. Look for these boys to go to state in the future.

Next year I hope to have livestock, horse, dairy and rifle teams. This will enable more 4-Hers to be a part of these activities.

The Texas 4-H Leader Forum was held April 7-10 in Brownwood at the Texas 4-H Center. Leaders attending from Randall County were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Trammell, Mrs. Joe Detten, and Mrs. Jim Brice. All of these leaders returned with new ideas, enthusiasm, and more understanding of 4-H programs. These training sessions are designed to train volunteer leaders in various areas of 4-H. I hope, in the future, other leaders in Randall County will attend leader training in Brownwood.

I have just received two pamphlets on upcoming activities at the Texas 4-H Center. On May 15-16, 1976, 4-H Leader Training will involve 4-H Record Book (introductory and advanced), 4-H Horticultural Projects, and Creative Arts for 4-H. Cost will be $13 and travel scholarships will be available. Registrations must be in the state 4-H office by May 10, 1976. I have these registration forms at my office.

During the month of July, 4-H camping sessions will be held at the center. I will give full details to 4-H clubs, council, adult leaders association and teen leaders association. I hope to get to go down for one of these camping sessions.

A meeting for the Randall County 4-H Adult-Leaders Association will be Thursday, April 29, 1976 at 7:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Bldg. The program will be given by those leaders who attended the Texas 4-H Leader Forum. I urge all leaders and parents to attend, this will be a very informative meeting. This will be a meeting to form and organize a 4-H Adult-Leaders Association in Randall County. We would appreciate your support and attendance to get this organization rolling.

On Sunday, April 11, 1976 at 2 p.m. at the WT arena the second meeting of the T-Anchor 4-H Horse Club was held. Kathy Horton, leader, conducted a program on grooming and care of horses. The 4-Hers were divided into four groups, and four horses were used to practice grooming. The horses were judged and prizes were awarded. Some 15 parents and 4-Hers attended. Anyone interested in 4-H, and any of its activities can contact me at the County Extension Office. I will need to get you enrolled and on the mailing list so you can receive letters, notices, etc.

In our office we have many different types of projects from livestock to foods and clothing to auto to safety plus many more. I feel we have some type of activity or project that would interest you. I would be very pleased to have new members and to work with you. Gardening is an excellent project to have. It is about time to plant gardens. This is one of our many projects we offer. I feel it is excellent and just think you can get something to eat out of the deal! !

I need to know your interests before I can get you in a project. I am a very poor mind-reader.

I hope you have a HAPPY EASTER!

FIGHTING HEART — Chosen to take his place with the sports stars of Canyon's past was Clifford Adams, named for the Fighting Heart Award in football.

Baileys have infant girl

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Bailey of 1212 2nd Avenue, Canyon announce the April 4 birth of a daughter, Toni Jo, who weighed 6 pounds, 5¾ ounces and measured 18¾ inches at birth in Palo Duro Hospital here.

The father is employed with Pioneer Natural Gas Company and the mother is a vocational secretary at Canyon High School. The couple has one other daughter, Stacey, age 4.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craig of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Bailey, Sr. of Brownfield.

Livestock association to meet

A general membership meeting of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association will be at 7:30 p.m. April 22 at the vocational agriculture building on the Canyon High School campus.

John McNeill, president, announced that several possible changes will be considered in the Association's annual livestock show. Among items to be discussed are the date of the show, steer weight minimum, standards for sifting, show schedule, facilities improvement, limitation of sale animals, general catalog revision and a revision of the charter.

All members are invited to attend.

Post Office sets May 4 for bids

Postal officials will open bids on May 4 for the purchase of property in Canyon for location of a new post office building.

Bid opening date was announced this week, a week after the Postal Service launched a public search for a large lot for the new construction there

The service wants to purchase a site having dimensions of 200-front feet with a depth of 298 feet for 59,600 square feet. The site, according to their specifications, should fall within the general area bounded on the north by Third Avenue, on the south by Eighth Avenue, on the east by U.S. 87, and on the west by 13th Avenue.

Site offers should be made to Bill McMillan, Field Real Estate and Buildings Office, U.S. Postal Service, Drawer 239, Dallas, 75221. The offers should be sent before April 15,

After a suitable site is located, an architect will be asked to design the building and a call will go out for construction bids, according to Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland.

Teachers honored

Teachers were honored with a buffet and entertainment at the annual Canyon High teacher appreciation dinner sponsored by the Student Council Monday night.

More than 100 teachers watched as the Student Council show with master of ceremonies Allen Shankles presented a CHS "pro news" with Rick Mantooth, Royal Brantley and Jerry Paul Allen.

Mantooth and Brantley joined Dinah Winn and Darlenea Hanes in a vocal quartet and then the band "Rain," played with members Robert Byrd, Monte Chandler, Craig Howard, Terry Chandler and Billy Kennedy.

Dr. Johnson is recorder

Dr. Roland Johnson, head of the West Texas State University Department of Business Education and Office Administration, will serve as recorder for a session at a San Francisco convention April 14 thru 17.

He will attend the National Business Education Association annual convention and serve as recorder for a session on management of independent study progress.

Participants of the "Golden Gateways" convention will discuss word processing, supervision and administration, curriculum design, career education and management of independent study progress.

Representatives of high schools, junior colleges and university business education departments will attend the convention at the San Francisco Hilton and Tower.

Mail delivery is approved

City mail delivery will begin April 24 for four new blocks in Canyon.

The new areas include the 2600 block of 14th Avenue, 2900 and 3300 blocks of Mable Drive and the 1200 block of 12th Street.

According to postal officials, new regulations require patrons in the new areas to place a mail box next to the curb where there are no sidewalks. If there is a sidewalk, the boxes must be placed in a group of three or four located centrally between the houses and as close to the curb as possible.

Residents in the new areas are being notified now.

"Can you identify the person in this photograph?" is the subject of a display in the Library and Archives Department of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at West Texas State University.

The documentation of history through photographs is a major project at the library and museum, according to Mrs. Claire Kuehn, museum archivist.

Mrs. Kuehn recently acquired 50 photographs from a display at the Texas Salvage Company in Amarillo. The photographs were originally from a former Amarillo studio.

"Of the 50 photographs we bought for the library, 32 of the pictures have been accurately identified," Mrs. Kuehn said. "That only leaves 18 out of the collection that we need names for.

Several Amarillo citizens and area residents have been identified in the collection. They include N.S. Griggs, founder of the N.S. Griggs funeral home and Joe Jenkins, a former Amarillo mayor. Jake Hess of McLean, a member and past president of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association, was identified along with Ross Larsen, a former Amarillo High School principal. Al Dueowlin, a former Globe-News reporter and area author, was also identified in the collection.

"Most of the photographs were made in the late 1950's or early 60's and were used in studio displays," Mrs. Kuehn said. "That makes them difficult to identify. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society members have been very helpful in identifying the people in the photographs."

The Museum and Archives use photographs as references on costumes of certain periods and as a record for historical research, according to Mrs. Kuehn.

"Many of the photographs in the Museum have been donated and have no identification at all," Mrs. Kuehn said. "The photos are useless without some type of identification of either name, place or date. We have lots of pictures of pioneers, society people and ranchers that need identifying.

"Photograph identification is an on-going thing here at the Museum," Mrs. Kuehn added. "We hope visitors will help to identify the pictures when they visit the Museum and Archives."

Household survey set

A sample of households in this area will be visited by Bureau of the Census interviewers during the work week of April 19-24 to conduct the Bureau's monthly survey of employment and unemployment.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the April survey will have additional questions about the use of food stamps in 1975 and the first quarter of 1976.

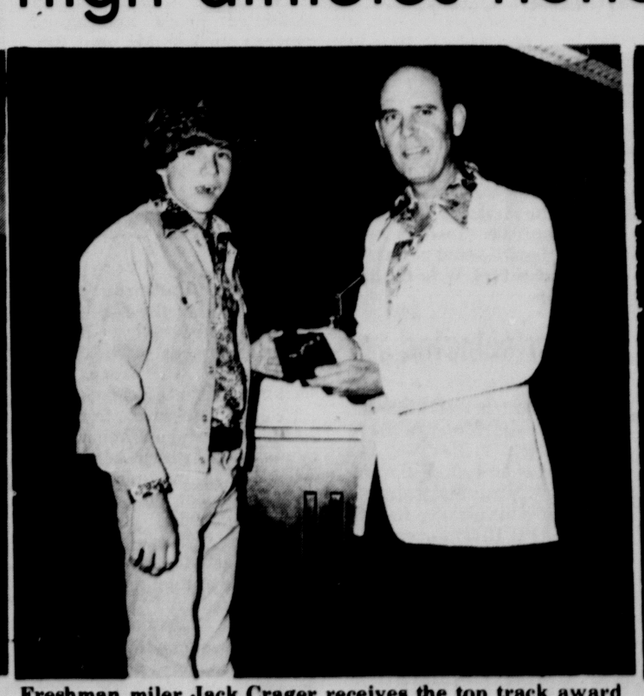
Households in this area are part of the sample of 70,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The February survey indicated that of the 93.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 86.3 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.6 percent, down from 7.8 percent in January, and substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Junior high athletes honored

Top award for a freshman basketball player went to Kevin Elder at the CJHS ninth grade athletic banquet last week. Coach Lewis Tversky presented the plaque.



Freshman miler Jack Crager receives the top track award from Coach Bobby Byrd at the CJHS ninth grade athletic banquet.

Terry Tennison was selected as most valuable freshman football player at CJHS. Coach Eddie Smith presents the award.

Daugherty gets study loan

Stephen Daugerty, a first-year medical student at The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, has received a $5,400 loan from the State Rural Medical Education Board to help defray his medical school expenses.

The board said it was impressed with Daugherty's qualifications and his intent "to be of lifelong service to the rural people of this state." He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Daugherty of Canyon.

A native of Alpine, Texas, Stephen Daugherty plans to return there to practice after he completes medical school and a residency in family practice.

"I like the friendly people in Alpine," he said. "Practicing medicine will be a challenge since the area is one of the most medically isolated regions in the state."

His loan was granted in part on the basis of his intention to ultimately practice medicine in a Texas county with less than 25,000 population. Loans are forgiven at the rate of 20 percent per year for each year the recipient spends in rural practice.

Egg cash in contest

The final week to hunt for Easter Eggs is underway in Canyon as merchants are sponsoring a promotion with a variety of gifts and prizes for lucky local residents having telephone numbers listed in Cleta-Umbarger, Happy, Wayside, Dawn, West Texas State University, the North Randall County area (622 prefix) and Canyon.

The Easter Egg Hunt is designed so that all telephone numbers in the contest will be changed weekly giving all customers a good chance for winning prizes worth hundreds of dollars in gift certificates, money, merchandise and other benefits.

Prize eggs fill Easter baskets at participating merchant businesses. In addition to the regular eggs, special gold and silver prize eggs are available offering gifts of $50 each for the gold eggs and $25 for each of the silver eggs to the holder of the telephone number identified thereon. The gold and silver prize eggs will be rotated daily among businesses during the contest.

All phone numbers on the eggs are being picked at random and each egg is filled with a prize for the lucky customer. Local employees are also eligible to participate in the contest, except at the place of their employment.

Over 100 eggs, identified with phone numbers, are in the Easter Egg Hunt. Customers must claim their winning eggs during the big hunt.

Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Auxiliary installed new officers at rites Tuesday afternoon including from left: Betty Morrison, president; Grace Knighton, vice president; Shirley White, parliamentarian; Lois Hull, secretary; and Billie Erwin, treasurer. Peggy Smallwood, vice president, was unable to attend the installation.

Museum auxiliary installs officers

Tha annual meeting of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Auxiliary was conducted Tuesday afternoon in the lecture room of the museum.

New officers for the auxiliary were installed including Betty Morrison as president; Peggy Smallwood and Grace Knighton, vice presidents; Billie Erwin, treasurer; Lois Hull, secretary; and Shirley White, parliamentarian.

The new officers were installed by Claire Kuehn, Archives curator for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, using an installation oath that was used for the inauguration of the nation's first president, George Washington.

As the various oaths were administered Monday afternoon, the country's earliest holders of those various national offices were discussed briefly by Mrs. Kuehn, the installing officer.

At the conclusion of the rites, the new officers of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Auxiliary were joined by other members of the volunteer auxiliary in reciting the preamble of the United States constitution.

Dr. Jim Hanson, curator for the museum, and other staff personnel from the museum were guests of the auxiliary. Following a brief business meeting and the installation, refreshments were served the group.

Schenks have infant girl

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schenk of Star Route, Wildorado announce the March 31 birth of a daughter, Toni Diane, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 7 pounds, 5¼ ounces and measured 20 inches at birth. The father farms in the Wildorado area.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Handing of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schenk of Wildorado.

SPRING IS THE time of weddings and engagements and with a hectic news office atmosphere sometimes a date is printed improperly, as was the wedding date for a local couple last Sunday.

Miss Connie Pitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pitt of Canyon, will be exchanging wedding vows with Gary Dean Morris, son of Wayne and Dottie Morris of Amarillo, on June 11, 1976. Erroneously, the news had the wedding date set for July.

Our apologies to the happy couple and best wishes in the years ahead.

IN PREPARATION FOR Easter lovable ducks and bunnies are being seen in various local businesses to capture the hearts of the young — but when a teenager brings home their "find" it can be quite disconcerting to the total family routine as it has been at the Carl Miller home.

We have a new quacking friend at our house named Wally and his constant quack can be heard as he follows us around. Last Sunday after reading over the Home and Garden supplement to the Canyon News, we went out to dig up the onion bed — not necessarily for the exercise or for gardening — but to seek worms for Wally.

Not finding any worms, Wally had to settle for a bowl of corn, hamburger meat, and a sprinkling of other vegetables — but he got his worm that evening in the form of a spaghetti noodle.

Wally's not the only chirper at the Miller home as another recent addition was a parakeet named "Fred." Fred (or Fredrica — as he may be) has learned the knack of opening his cage — and has been latched in with a safety pin.

One afternoon recently the Miller home was the invasion point of yet another creature. That "mouse" scuffling sound just kept on, and after checking several times for the culprit, the "mouse" turned out to be a bird named "Fred," who had slipped silently out of his cage to explore the outer reaches of his freedom.

On return to his cage "Fred" was quite happy and his new latch is a snug fitting bread tie!

THERE WERE SOME pained outcries from teachers taking the four-day art workshop here this week when they found out they were going to have to peel the paper off their brand new crayons and break them for one project.

Art instructor Pat Huddleston assured the group of 40 or so Canyon elementary school teachers that the new techniques could not be accomplished any other way. But spoiling nice new crayons did bring back echos from childhood of "Now, don't break your colors."

Art exhibit

Art by West Texas State University students will be on display in the annual Art Department spring exhibition and sale April 14 through May 9 in the Amarillo Art Center.

A reception opening the show will be at 7:30 p.m. April 14 in the center.

Art on exhibit will be selected by art faculty members. The jury will be headed by Mrs. Margaret Campbell, instructor in art; David Rindlisbacher, assistant professor of art; and Darold Dean Smith, assistant professor of art.

"This show demonstrates the versatility in all mediums and classes in our Art Department," Rindlisbacher said. "Art by Amarillo College students will also be on display and there's always a little friendly competition."

The Amarillo Art Center is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The center is closed on Monday.

Shell grant given

The West Texas State University Women's Program Committee has received a $1,500 grant from the Shell Funds for Women's Careers.

The Shell Companies Foundation established the funds to encourage and help women move equally into careers in business and technical fields.

The grant will be used for the fourth annual WTSU Conference for public school and junior college counselors this coming fall, according to Dr. Enid Bates, WT women's program advisor.

"One of the major thrusts of this one-day conference will be devoted to opportunities for women in non-traditional careers and the role of the counselor with emphasis on specific implementation techniques at the elementary, junior and senior high school, and junior college levels," Dr. Bates said.

The conference will be sponsored by the WTSU Center for Testing, Academic and Career Counseling under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Waugh and the High Plains Personnel and Guidance Association in cooperation with the WTSU Women's Advisor's Office.

Attending will be high school counselors, junior and senior college counselors and placement officers, academic instructors and department heads, college students, directors and counselors of private employment agencies and personnel directors of business and industry.

Beginning June 1

Longer library hours to be observed

Longer library hours will be instituted at the Canyon Public Library beginning June 1.

The summer schedule at the library will have the facility open from 10 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

At the Library Board's monthly meeting Monday, the consensus of the total library board was that longer hours covering six days each week should be requested in the near future.

The next regular board meeting on May 10 will be devoted to a discussion of the ways to finance a conversion to longer library hours. Among the possibilities to be discussed at the May 10 board meeting will be the use of volunteer workers on a regular basis or the feasibility of a yearly charge for library cards.

Walter Shelly, chairman of the library board, presided during the monthly meeting held in the conference rooms of the Civic Center Complex Monday afternoon.

Mary Huntington, city librarian, noted that the library circulation has almost doubled within the past month. She also presented a list of 69 books, 15 of which had been requested by library patrons.

The chairman, Mr. Shelly, requested the librarian to prepare a financial report for presentation at the next board meeting. The statement should reflect the status of all funds available for library use. A copy of the proposed budget for the library was presented to other board members including those present: Terry White, Kathy Glazener, Ted Freidell, and Claire Kuehn. Also present for the board meeting Monday were the librarian, Mary Huntington, board chairman, Walter Shelly, and administrative assistant, Tom Plumlee.

Work on shelving and various other equipment has yet to be completed at the new library facility. City manager, Glen Metcalf has agreed to contact the Dallas firm to find out when work will be completed.

The board reviewed plans for a public book review to be presented May 3 at 7 p.m. in the Community Center. The review will be given by Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Baldwin J. Stribling, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The board also discussed plans for future book reports and noted that coffee and cookies will be served following the public book review.

The library board also heard a report on the success of the recent Library "Friends" used book sale which netted over $200 and which which will benefit future projects for the library. Unsold books from the recent sale are to be offered at another sale in the old library building on April 24.

Volunteers are needed to drive

Carmen Hernandez is seeking volunteer drivers to assist the Canyon Community Family Services Association while she recuperates at home from a broken right shoulder.

Mrs. Hernandez, projects chairman and coordinator for the CCFSA, received her injury shortly before noon last Thursday in an automobile accident at the intersection on Western Street, Amarillo, which is behind Skaggs-Albertson's store.

After two-vehicle accident occurred Mrs. Hernandez was brought by Canyon Ambulance to Palo Duro Hospital at Canyon for treatment. She was released from the hospital Saturday morning and is now recuperating at home.

Her husband, Robert, was uninjured in the mishap. The impact on the side of the Hernandez vehicle caused Mrs. Hernandez to hit the steering with her shoulder suffering the broken shoulder bone and receive extensive bruises.

Anyone who desires to help the CCFSA representative as a volunteer should call her at 655-3394.

Showers prove it can still rain

By MARY NEAL HENRY

WOULD YOU BELIEVE that it really did rain? Happy received about an inch on Sunday evening and several areas around Happy received moisture. Monday evening, more showers came. It can rain!

EASTER MUST SURELY be a part of "The Greatest Story Ever Told." Few of us can comprehend its magnificience.

I have four children. I could not give any one of them for a cause in which they were absolutely blameless. God gave his only son . . . for all of us. I believe, yet I stand in awe at the great gift of sacrifice.

When we receive blame for an action we did not commit, we cry "unfair." Yet, Jesus, free from all sin, accepted the punishment for all of ours. He was crucified.

Easter is a new beginning . . . Jesus overcame death . . . gave us a new and everlasting life.

Easter is a time of rededication, a time when plants begin to spring forth and grow, a time of new energy, a time of re-evaluation. Easter is nondescript. Pause and meditate . . . count your blessings.

HAPPY COMMUNITY 4-H met on Monday evening at the Happy Jaycee Hall. President Brenda Parker called the meeting to order. The group stood and repeated the 4-H Prayer in unison.

Molly Parker led the pledge to the American Flag. Tammie Williams led the 4-H pledge.

Brenda Parker announced that Kathy Parker, winner of the highest 4-H scholarship, and her mother, Faye Parker, had been special guests at the recent THDA Meeting of District II. She also announced that Cathy Parker won the recent 4-H Decision Making Contest and that Laurie Fellers had won the High Reasons. A big thank you was given Skip Simons for being responsible for this contest.

A 4-H newsletter is now being sent in Swisher County and members are cautioned to keep it as a source of information.

Debbie Parker announced that she and Laurie Fellers, Angela Parker, Molly Parker, Vickie Jones, Kelly Weavers, Andi Payne, Neal Odom, and Christi McCaslin, (with Gay Fellers' help) had painted the Fire Hydrants in Happy that day. They finished them on Wednesday afternoon.

Christi McCaslin called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. New members introduced were Mandi Shipman, Shelly Mote and Dana Foster.

A money making project committee was appointed. They are Debbie Parker, Tim Parker, Cindy Dugan, Angela Parker, Genie Jackson and Kyle Odom.

David McDonald presented an inspirational reading of Americanism.

Kathy Billingslea announced that she was pleased that Happy was presenting so many demonstrations. County Eliminations are scheduled for April 23rd at the Methodist Church in Tulia. District Contest is May 1st.

The first demonstration presented was a "Share the Fun" skit by Genora Jackson, Connie Venhaus, Tammie Williams, Angela Mote, Shann McCarley, Teri Patching, Kathy Flowers, Patsy Wilhelm and Melissa Harvey.

Kelly Weavers and Vickie Jones presented "Safety in the Home." Russell Boman and Tim Parker presented a demonstration of correct horseshoeing. Clay Simons and David McDonald presented a demonstration entitled "Looks 'n Luck." It was about the costs of gain in cattle feeding.

Kaye Stubblefield and Molly Parker got involved in horticulture, "How to Grow Strawberries," in particular.

Angelique Henry presented a demonstration entitled "Fitting A Pup Into the Family."

Angela Parker and Cindy Dugan demonstrated all about roses and decided to title it, "The Subject is Roses."

Ronnie McDonald and Jim Bob Burnett took natural resources as a subject. Feed lot waste was their subject and their "pot of gold" was a cast iron pot of cow chips.

Chad Boman ask "Is the Gremlin Getting Your Energy?" He demonstrated several ways to save energy in the home.

The meeting closed with the group singing Kum-Ba-Yah. Kim and Christi McCaslin served refreshments.

WE ENJOYED THE WTSU rodeo last weekend. The college (or the ones involved) have build a brand new arena just south of the Buffalo Football Stadium. They finished it complete with lights just in time for their National Intercollegiate Rodeo. Sorry that I can't give you the winners of the events. I hope they are printed elsewhere in the paper.

Ken Henry is sitting second in Bull Riding in the NIRA standings and first in the Southwestern Region standings. He is also fifth in bareback riding in the region standings and second in the Men's All-Round.

WTSU's Brad Churchhill is tied for seventh/eighth in the saddle bronc riding in Regional Standings.

WINNERS — in an Easter coloring contest sponsored jointly by The Village Shoppe and Hallmark were Janelle Whitney, 12; Paula Buster, 8; and Jill Mantooth, 13. Brant Moore, 3, winner in his age group, is not pictured. The contest was judged by Canyon graduate art student David Stewart.

Historical marker dedicated at Happy

The dedication of the Historical Marker for the United Methodist in Happy was held April 11th. The ceremony was held following morning worship services.

The Marker was given in honor of a former church member, Ira Prewitt, by his family.

Ken Danner, a grandson, and chairman of the official board of the church gave the welcome. Ms. Maurine Allison, a daughter and chairman of the Swisher County Historical Commission, recognized members of the family which included the widow, Ms. Sibyl Prewitt, Happy.

As other members of the family were introduced they gave Ms. Prewitt a long stemmed red rose that was arranged in a bouquet. These included the other daughter Ms. Ernestine Danner, Happy, the grandson, Ken Danner, a granddaughter, Ms. Linda Schrib, Plainview, who later gave the history of the church. Grandsons Jim Allison, Stratford and J.D. Danner, Ballinger, who unveiled the Marker. Others included great grandchildren Noel and Karen Danner, Happy, accompanied by their grandfather, Vilo Danner, who presented a rose for a granddaughter, Ms. Sue Bowe Pearland, who was unable to attend. Chad Danner, a great grandson, who was accompanied by his mother, Ms. Dorris Danner, Ballinger, Wesley Allison, Stratford, a great grandson, was accompanied by his uncle, Jimmy Schrib, Plainview. The youngest great granddaughter, Wendy Allison was accompanied by her mother, Ms. Rinda Allison, Stratford, and Ms. Maurine Allison completed the bouquet with the last rose and a large bow. The great grandchildren, Jana, Tim and Don Bowe, Pearland, were recognized.

Special guests were recognized including: Mr. Prewitt's brother, Marvin and his wife, Temple, from Lubbock; former church members, Ms. Flossie Johnston and Miss Velma Cook, Canyon; Ms. Beth Fowler Ray, Amarillo; Mr. and Ms. John Fowler, Memphis and other friends Keith, Malcolm and Chris Waters, Stratford; Tulia Herald editor H.M. Baggarly and Mr. and Ms. W.A. Jordan, Tulia.

The benediction was given by the pastor, Rev. Carl Olgesby and a covered dish dinner was served in fellowship hall to conclude the activities.

Easter egg has a colorful history

By DORIS McKEE

IT IS JUST a matter of a few days until Easter and we certainly hope each and everyone will have a lovely holiday.

* * *

IT IS INTERESTING to find that one of Christianity's most inspirational holy days was also a Pagan festival, named after the goddess of spring, Eostra. According to legend, Eostra had a pet bird, which, to delight the children throughout the world, she magically changed into a rabbit.

Still a bird at heart so goes the tale, the rabbit traveled about laying colored eggs in various nests.

Early people regarded the egg as a symbol of creation. Thus, it is appropriate that the great Christian festival of joy be celebrated on this day too.

AT OUR LAST Fire Meeting it was decided to change the name of our meeting to Siesta Community Action. This will include the fire department, the ladies auxiliary and community activities for adults and children.

We hope every family in Siesta will feel like becoming a part. It was decided that a membership fee of $2 per family be paid each month starting in May.

We also now have a Fire Chief — Dareld Meador and two assistants — Albert Rinne and Rex Gore. Also appointed was a newcomer lady — Clarice Heglin who will be assisted by Peggy Gore. They will visit each new tenant to the park and welcome them and explain about Siesta Community Action.

Our next meeting is set for April 20th at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation building.

* * *

REX AND PEGGY Gore were in Granberry, Tex. recently doing some fishing. They fished for catfish and bass.

* * *

WOULD LIKE TO extend our congratulations to Paul and Vicki Jones on the recent birth of a daughter. I believe they named her Samantha.

* * *

JO FULKERSON WAS in Tuscon, Ariz. week before last. She had some business to attend to and also visited with friends and family. She stayed with (daughter) Kathy and Bruce Block.

While she was there she attended the Spring Fling at the University of Arizona, and had a good time.

* * *

WE WOULD LIKE to extend a get well message to Alyce Holbert's sister, who is ill in an Amarillo hospital. Also want to wish Charles Carter's brother a speedy recovery. He was in a car accident recently in Oklahoma.

* * *

MYSELF, TOD, De ANN and lots of others from here, watched Saturday night as the President of the United States sped down the Canyon Expressway.

* * *

MONDAY NIGHT THERE was several of us from Siesta who attended the Gene Howe Variety Hee Haw Show. There were lots and lots of acts and each and everyone executed beautifully.

The big highlight of the evening was when the teachers, the aides, the principal and numerous other personnel took to the stage and performed a rollicking hillbilly number.

The crowd attending this show was one of the largest I have ever seen there. The cafeteria was jam packed with every seat taken and people standing anywhere they could. Lots of people stood in the hallway.

It was just great to see how the folks of Gene Howe came out and supported their children and their school.

RUBY HUDDLESTON RETURNED last week for a trip to South Texas. She did visit Jack and Vera Huddleston while in that area.

* * *

TALKED TO EUNICE Rinehart Monday morning. Said she and Barnie were doing fine. They made a trip to Hobbs, N.M. last Thursday and stayed until Saturday. They were there visiting Varnie's sister Vera Tate.

JON, DIANE, CHRISTY and Marty Hoffman had weekend guests — Jon's brother and family, Jim, Pat, Carey and Mike Hoffman of Hazelton, Kansas were here for a visit.

* * *

SIESTA PARK HAD a visit from some ex-tenents last week. T.C. and Irene Weatherly were back for a short time. They now live in Carey, Tex., which is not far from Childress. They visited a short time with Ruby Huddleston.

We certainly hope they will come back anytime they are in this area.

* * *

TALKED TO CHERI Earles to see if she and Billy had been anywhere. Seems they did have a weekend all to themselves last weekend.

Cheri's sister Diane, who goes to WT, came by on her way to Lefors for the weekend and took Justin and Wesley with her, to spend some time with grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tarbet.

Saturday night Cheri and Billy went out to eat and took in a movie. Seems they sure did miss those two little guys and were very happy to see Diane return them Sunday evening.

* * *

THE BOY SCOUTS went on a horseback riding trip Sunday afternoon. They went to Palo Duro Canyon.

Those attending were Marty Hoffman, Eddie Rebeaud, Dudley and DeWayne. The leader and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter supervised.

* * *

THERE WASN'T A Boy Scout meeting Monday night but the next meeting will be on Monday, night, April 19th.

* * *

JUST A REMINDER that the Siesta Community Action is going to have a Bingo on Friday April 23rd at the recreation building. We welcome anyone that wants to come.

Proceeds will go into the fund for our firehouse. We will be selling cokes and coffee, popcorn, and homemade candy.

Doors will open at 7:30 p.m. Save your dimes now and come have some fun then.

* * *

AHA, I HAVE finally got the jump on another birthday. So a very Happy Birthday to Kathie Rinne who will celebrate her day on Monday, April 19th. We wish her many many more.

* * *

WE WANT TO say Happy Easter and drive safely if you travel.

* * *

GUESS I HAD better cap the ole pen for now but will be here next week, so Keep on Reading.

Thought for this week, "Getting is great, but giving is better."

See ya.

Former resident recognized by Tennessee Gov.

Dr. John Petry of Memphis, Tenn. was recently awarded the Governor's "Outstanding Tennessean" Award by Gov. Ray Blanton for outstanding service in Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education.

Petry, a former resident of Canyon, was director of the Baptist Student Union at West Texas State University and a Bible professor from 1954-56. He is presently the assistant professor in educational research at Memphis State University. He is also president of the International Group of Memphis and the Crosscut Club, a group of Memphis residents interested in theological discussions.

Petry's wife is the former Frances Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Cunningham of Canyon. The couple has two daughters.

Pueblo Bonito is talk topic

Dr. Robert Wright, professor of biology at West Texas State University, will speak on "Homage to Pueblo Bonito" at the WTSU Naturalist Society meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in Room 318 of the Science Center.

Dr. Wright will discuss the reasons the Indians left home, sunspots and climate, nature's living fossils and other phenomena.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting.
